ROCK CITADEL OF GIBRALTAR ATTACKED BY ITALIAN PLANES

TWIN ACTIONS MAY BE START OF AXIS DRIVE IN MEDITERRANEAN

Linked With Recent Heavy Assault on Main Allied Naval Base at Alexandria Reports Indicate That Campaign to Bottle Up Fleet May Be Already in Motion; Nazis Claim Britain Preparing to Land Troops on Syrian Coast

LONDON PRESS WARNS OF GRAVE POSITION

Italian bombers were reported today to have attacked Britain's great rock citadel of Gibraltar, guarding the western entrance of the Mediterranean Sea, while the Germans forecast aerial blows at the Suez Canal in the east.

Linked with Wednesday's heavy assault on the main British naval base at Alexandria these reports indicated that an Axis campaign to bottle up the British Mediterranean fleet may already be in motion.

London radio said casualties at Alexandria numbered 150 killed and 200 wounded.

Meanwhile, France's high military chiefs, in a cabinet session at Vichy, were reported discussing U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull's blunt warning that French cooperation with Germany was "utterly inimical to the just rights of other countries."

With Vice Premier Admiral Jean Darlan presiding, the meeting was attended by Generalissimo Maxime Weygand, commander-in-chief of France's North African armies; Governor General Pierre Boisson of French West Africa, and President General Admiral Jean Esteva of Tunisia.

The question of empire defense as part of Adolf Hitler's new European order was also said to have been discussed.

And indications that British troops might move into Syria at (Turn to Page Thirteen)

BERLIN HINTS AT ACTION AT SUEZ

Berlin, June 6.—(P)—Well-informed German sources declared today the confused situation in Syria is coming to a head and predicted that some of the Luftwaffe's next actions would be directed at the Suez Canal.

The Nazi bombing expedition Wednesday night against Alexandria is only a "forerunner" of coming events, they said, adding that the Suez Canal is of the highest importance as a supply line to the British navy in the eastern Mediterranean as well as to British land forces operating in Egypt and North Africa.

(German bombers on Crete now are less than three hours flying time from the canal, which was (Turn to Page Eleven)

HULL'S WARNING BEING STUDIED BY VICHY CHIEFS

Official Reaction to Secretary of State's Declaration Does Not Immediately Materialize as Cabinet Is Convened

DEFENSE CONSIDERED

Vichy, Unoccupied France, June 6.—The France of Marshal Petain called on its loyal forces for a stern defense of Syria against any British move while pondering today Secretary Hull's declaration that cooperation with Germany would be considered "utterly inimical to the just rights of other countries."

Official reaction to the American secretary of state's statement of yesterday did not immediately materialize but Vichy chiefs, including General Maxime Weygand, participated in a cabinet meeting where it was supposed Hull's utterances were discussed.

Unofficially, the French insisted that collaboration with Germany was not, as Hull expressed fear it was, "for the purpose of aggression and oppression." Unofficial sources said the collaboration was purely economic and political to restore France to a normal place in a reorganized Europe after the war.

General Henri Dentz, commander in chief of the French forces in the Levant—Syria—calling on his men for an unbending defense, denied anew in a broadcast last night that France was surrendering rule of Syria and that German forces were landing at Latakia, relieving French troops.

"The command is clear: Defend our possessions and defend them with our own forces," he said.

In the Vichy cabinet general question of defense of the empire as part of the new European organization also was said to have been considered.

MAY COMPROMISE WATERWAY PROJECT

Washington, June 6.—(P)—President Roosevelt's appeal for speedy congressional consent to the projected St. Lawrence waterway development brought a counter proposal from opponents today that only the hydro-electric power portion of the program be undertaken at this time.

Senator Clark (D-Mo) said that, in view of the president's assertion that additional electric current was needed for defense industries, he and others of like mind would not object to authorizing development of the power resources.

World News of the Day Briefly Reviewed

Cairo, Egypt, June 6.—(P)—British bombers attacked Italian aircraft on the airfield at Aleppo, in northern Syria, yesterday, destroying one craft by direct hits, the RAF Middle East command announced today.

Damascus, Syria, June 6.—(P)—The commander in chief of the French empire forces in Syria, General Henri Dentz, has ordered his men to their posts for an unbending defense of these mandated lands, cautioning them against British promises and denying that military control is being surrendered to Germany.

Berlin, June 6.—(P)—Adolf Hitler conferred at length at Berchtesgaden today with Dr. Ante Pavelic, leader of the new Croat kingdom, the German official news agency, DNB, reported. Reichsmarschal Hermann Wilhelm Goering and Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop also attended.

Capetown, Union of South Africa, June 6.—(P)—Prime Minister Jan Christiaan Smuts in a speech today pleaded for the United States to "hurry up" and take decisive steps before it is too late. Cavalcante to be the First Witness Before Hearing Over Plot Charges

Author of Accusations, Voiced on Floor of Senate During Heated Debate, is Absent When Committee Formally Takes Over

ASSEMBLY RECESSES

Harrisburg, June 6.—(P)—A legislative committee created to investigate charges of a "criminal conspiracy" to favor certain groups in the general assembly today invited Senator Anthony J. Cavalcante (D-Fayette) to be the first witness at the opening hearing Monday at noon.

Cavalcante was the author of the accusations, voiced on the floor of the state Senate during a heated debate Wednesday. He was absent when the committee, headed by Temporary Chairman George B. Stevenson, was established yesterday.

Chairman Stevenson said the hearings would be open to the press. He added that a copy of the resolution establishing the investigation, without an appropriation however, was being sent to Cavalcante along with the invitation to testify.

Governor James said Attorney General Claude T. Reno and his staff would cooperate with "every" (Turn to Page Eleven)

AMERICA FIRST MEETING HELD IN PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, June 6.—(P)—Claiming that more than 80 percent of Americans are opposed to this nation's entry into the European war, U. S. Senator Burton K. Wheeler last night urged the people to "let the president know" that they "expect him to continue his resistance against war."

The Montague Democrat addressed an audience of 3,000 at a rally sponsored by the America First Committee.

He was introduced by former Senator David A. Reed of Pittsburgh, who said the United States "is not prepared to wage an offensive war in Europe, Asia or on two oceans at once," and that "if we continue preparing as we are now, we will be absolutely safe from attack."

The crowd yelled "throw her out" when a woman attempted to heckle Reed.

"Let her stay," Reed interceded. "Remember, my friends, one of the rights we must guard to the last is the right of free speech."

There were no other interruptions during the program.

Wheeler said he believes President (Turn to Page Eleven)

Detroit, June 6.—(P)—Louis Chevrolet, 62, pioneer motorcar designer and in his earlier days one of the greatest of all racing automobile drivers, died at his home here today.

He had been in poor health for several years and in retirement for nearly a decade. He is survived by his widow and one son.

Chevrolet was born in Switzerland, on December 25, 1878. On May 30, 1905, he drove a Fiat racing automobile over a measured mile at Sheepshead Bay, New York, in 52.8 seconds for a new world's record. He regarded as his greatest achievement, however, (Turn to Page Eleven)

SEIZURE MEASURE IS SIGNED

President Roosevelt Formally Enacts Into Law Today Legislation Permitting the Government to Take Over and Operate Approximately Eighty Foreign Vessels Now Lying Idle in Harbors of American Waters

"FAIR COMPENSATION" TO BE MADE OWNERS

Washington, June 6.—(P)—President Roosevelt signed today legislation permitting the government to take over and operate the approximately 80 foreign ships now idle in American waters.

He immediately thereafter ordered the Maritime Commission to carry out terms of the act.

Thumbing through the order at a press conference, the president said it authorized the commission to:

Purchase, requisition, charter, or take over all foreign ships lying idle in waters of the United States, including those of the Philippines and Canal Zone.

Operate any of them in the service of the United States, directly or through an agent.

Charter or lease any of them for foreign or coastwise service, but not to any belligerent government without presidential approval.

Document the vessels under the laws of the United States or of a neutral nation of the western hemisphere.

Make just compensation to the owners.

Mr. Roosevelt said he did not know how many ships would be seized or which would be taken first. He said also he did not know whether any French vessels would be included.

The measure, sponsored by the administration, provides that the government can acquire ships by requisition or purchase or may charter them for the duration of the emergency. "Fair compensation" would be made to the owners, but funds paid would be held in the treasury for possible application against foreign debts to this country.

One restriction forbids the government from taking over, except by outright purchase, any vessels which actually were owned by a foreign government upon the outbreak of war, September 3, 1939. Only an Italian tanker and a small Danish training ship fall into this category.

Besides those two vessels, foreign (Turn to Page Eleven)

SUSSEX SHERIFF INDICTED WITH BOOTLEG RING

Newark, N. J., June 6.—(P)—Sussex County Sheriff Denton J. Quick, whose raids led to the recent breakup of the Newark-American band's Camp Nordland in Andover, is under federal indictment charging him with being a member of a bootleg ring that distilled 12,000 gallons of high-grade alcohol and defrauded the government of $50,000 in taxes.

Among the 18 defendants named in the true bills, handed up to Federal District Judge Thomas G. Walker on Wednesday and filed with the court clerk in Trenton yesterday, were two suspended treasury agents in the tax unit, Leo F. Durkin and Murray C. Taylor. They were indicted on charges of accepting a bribe to permit a prisoner to escape when the still was seized May 17, 1940.

Quick and the others were indicted in two counts, conspiracy to violate the internal revenue laws and possessing an unregistered still, and engaging in the business of distillers.

"I cannot understand it," Quick said at his office in Newton, "I know nothing about a still. It (Turn to Page Eleven)

CURTAILMENT OF ELECTRICITY AGAIN PROPOSED

Millions of Americans, Rich and Poor Alike, Face Prospects of Going Short On Both Oil and Lighting to Aid Campaign for Defense

FAST TIME POSSIBLE

Washington, June 6.—(P)—Millions of Americans, rich and poor alike, today faced a prospect of going short on both oil and electricity because of the war abroad and this country's vigorous preparations for defense.

Secretary Ickes, defense petroleum administration, warned that the great population of the eastern seaboard may be called upon, within a month, to forego the use of automobiles for pleasure, both on week days and Sundays.

The office of Production Management announced simultaneously yesterday that civilian curtailment in the consumption of power "in important areas" would be necessary, if sufficient energy was to be made available "in time to produce the supplies of aluminum and magnesium demanded by the growing aircraft and lend-lease program."

Ickes accordingly renewed his advocacy of daylight saving time for the whole country, as an emergency measure to conserve electric power.

Meanwhile, congress took cognizance of the threatened oil famine. The House yesterday passed a bill, requested by President Roosevelt, to facilitate construction of pipelines that would run oil to the east from Texas and Louisiana, and probably from Illinois and other sources.

Under the measure, high now goes to the Senate, government agencies or private concerns would be empowered to use the right of eminent domain for obtaining rights-of-way to push construction of any pipeline the president designated as vital to defense. Powers in the measure would expire June 30, 1942.

FOUR HORSES NAMED FOR BELMONT STAKES

New York, June 6.—(P)—Whirlaway, Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner bidding for the turf's triple crown, and three other three-year olds today were named for the 73rd running of the $25,000 added Belmont stakes at Belmont Park tomorrow.

Whirlaway, prohibitive choice to take the mile and half classic and become the fifth horse to win the famous "triple" drew the No. 3 stall in the draw for post position.

DEATH WATCH

Doorn, The Netherlands, June 6.—(P)—Princess of the House of Hohenzollern kept the death watch today beside the coffin of the late former Kaiser Wilhelm II. Over the casket was the old imperial standard. Among the recent arrivals were the Princess August Wilhelmina and Adalbert.

FLOOD DAMAGE BEING REPAIRED

Pittsburgh, June 6.—(P)—Householders cleaned up muddy homes and business life began its return to normalcy today as southwestern Pennsylvania rivers and streams receded after Wednesday's unseasonal June floods.

In one section of Fayette county alone, 2,000 soft coal miners of the H. C. Frick Coal and Coke Company resumed work. Railroad and highway crews removed debris from transportation arteries, and WPA workers and Red Cross volunteers aided homeless families in five counties—Washington, Greene, Fayette, Allegheny and Westmoreland.

Highlighting Program Given Before Capacity Audience at First Presbyterian Church is Pageant Play "Freedom Through the Ages" Staged by Large Cast; Singing By Choir of Underclassmen Also Proves Pleasing Feature

ANNOUNCEMENT MADE OF SPECIAL AWARDS

In one of the most impressive commencement programs ever presented here, 297 members of the Warren High School Class of 1941 last night marked the completion of their public school careers and received their diplomas. It was the 64th and largest class in the history of the local school.

Highlighting the program was the pageant play, "Freedom Through the Ages," presented by a large cast of graduates. This pageant was especially fitting in view of present world conditions and emphasized the need for preserving the freedom which is now enjoyed in this country.

It showed first a group of high school students complaining of the lack of freedom in their lives and then the unfolding of Liberty of the scenes in history in which various peoples are given their freedom.

Adding to the impressiveness of the pageant play was the singing by the choir of underclassmen under the direction of Carroll A. Fowler.

The program opened with the processional march played by the high school orchestra under the direction of Harry A. Summers as members of the class marched to their places. The invocation was given by the Rev. Martin C. Ham given by the Rev. Martin C. Ham (Turn to Page Eight)

DEATH CLAIMS BUSINESS MAN OF PROMINENCE

C. Frederick Bartsch, 113 Water Street, Passes Away Early This Morning in Local Hospital Following a Short Illness

SERVICES ON MONDAY

C. Frederick Bartsch, of 113 Water street, one of Warren's best known business men, died in the Warren General Hospital at 5:15 o'clock this morning after a short illness. He was aged 57 years. He had been in the hospital only since yesterday and his passing came as a great shock to his great number of friends in the community.

Mr. Bartsch, president of the Bartsch Furniture Company, 58-60 Pennsylvania avenue, west, had been engaged in the furniture business for more than 25 years. He started in a one-room store and later built the six-story building at 31-35 Pennsylvania avenue, east, which the company occupied for many years, prior to moving to the present location.

Through his dealing with the public, Mr. Bartsch gained a wide circle of friends, not only in Warren, but throughout the section.

Famous Boxing Pony Loses Life in River

Wheeling, W. Va., June 6.—(P)—"Pepo," $2,000 boxing pony who was the hit of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus, followed the "big top" even in death.

A victim of the Monongahela river flood in Pittsburgh Tuesday, the pony's body was washed up here today by the Ohio river as the circus was getting ready to move on after a night's stand.

In the confusion of loading at Pittsburgh, Pepo broke away from a groom and raced toward the river. Before anyone could catch him, he plunged into the muddy water and was carried down stream rapidly. He was seen to strike an obstruction in the river and disappear from view.

Last season Pepo delighted circus fans with a boxing act, in which he sparred with a trainer after his front hoofs had been cushioned. This season he danced and cavorted in the main ring with a 2,000-pound Percheron draft horse. Pepo was only a little larger than a big dog.

Speculation Whether Chief Executive Will Move to Reinforce His Injunction Against Stalling of Preparedness Machinery by Strikes Grows Apace as Aviation Plant Shutdown Continues on the West Coast

MANY MAJOR STEPS ARE TAKEN BY BOARD

BULLETIN

Washington, June 6.—(P)—President Roosevelt said today he was considering new steps to reduce labor stoppages in defense industries, but was not prepared to do anything now while the Defense Mediation Board was working on the west coast aircraft and lumber disputes. Asked at a press conference flatly whether he was planning to do something about the North American Aviation strike and the controversial International Woodworkers Union walkout, the chief executive said there was no statement today.

Speculation whether President Roosevelt would move to reinforce his injunction against the stalling of preparedness machinery by strikes grew apace in Washington today as 52,800 defense workers stood idle in labor disputes.

Despite a flurry of legislative proposals for curbing strikes, most eyes turned to the White House in conjecture whether the "unlimited emergency" powers of the president might be invoked to keep strategic plants open.

Queries prompted by the shutdown of North American Aviation Company in California yesterday, while the dispute was still before the Defense Mediation Board, brought no indication of executive action, however.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary said Mr. Roosevelt had been apprised of the open defiance of the board's recommendations voiced by O. M. Orton, president of 12,000 striking members of the International Woodworkers of America in the Pacific northwest.

The board has no power to back up its recommendations, though President Roosevelt has declared (Turn to Page Thirteen)

U. S. Navy's First Vessel Built as Mine Layer Launched at Philadelphia Navy Yard

Philadelphia, June 6.—(P)—The U. S. Navy's first vessel built as a mine layer was launched at the Philadelphia navy yard today and Ralph A. Burt, assistant secretary of the navy, declared "we can and will out-produce Hitler" in naval strength.

Speaking at the first of two important naval launchings at Delaware river shipyards in as many days, Bard declared:

"We are in competition with Hitler and his crew, who are building with slave labor and prisoners of war."

"What we are doing here is utterly necessary for the safety of our way of life. There is no one left in the world but the American worker who can out-produce Hitler."

WARREN POLICE ARE NOW UNDER CIVIL SERVICE

Ten members of the Warren Police Department have been placed under civil service by a bill signed yesterday by Governor James in Harrisburg.

The bill signed by the governor placed under civil service all police forces of three or more members in boroughs, towns and first class townships.

Members of the local department who came under the ruling are: Chief George F. Hahn, Captain Ray Eckardt, Wallace Outrid, Jerry Park, Mike Evan, Gordon Munn, Gerry Bean, Loren Bidwell, Charles Musante and Gerald Conboy.

Under the bill, present forces retain their jobs, but hereafter appointments will be made only from lists certified by local commissions.

Police may be removed only for these six general causes after appointment:

- (1) Physical or mental disability, which would retire them of duty with an honorable discharge;
- (2) neglect or violation of any official duty;
- (3) violation of any law, which is classed as a misdemeanor or felony;
- (4) inefficiency, neglect, intemperance, disobedience of orders or conduct unbecoming an officer;
- (5) intoxication while on duty;
- (6) engaging or participating in the conducting of any political or election campaign other than the exercise of right of suffrage.

The law specifically prohibits removal for religious, racial or political reasons.

Councils of boroughs must appoint a civil service commission by July 31, one member of which may be a councilman but the two others must hold no public office. The terms of the initial commission are to be staggered at two, four and six years, while succeeding commissions will be six-year bodies. The members serve without pay.

The council's choice for chief of police need only take a non-competitive exam for general qualifications, but others must be selected from the top three on the civil service list.

Father - Daughter Teams On Program For Commencement

A pleasant feature of the commencement exercises of the class of 1941 was the presence of several "father and daughter" teams on the program. The invocation and benediction were given by Rev. M. C. Hamlin, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, whose daughter, Mary Elizabeth Hamlin, was a member of the class.

Byron Knapp, Class of 1917, gave the Alumni welcome, and his daughter, Patty Knapp, is a member of the honor group and received several awards. Floyd W. Bathurst, Warren High School principal, presented the awards and his daughter, Margaret Bathurst, received one of these.

Robert W. Mackay, treasurer of the school district, Class of 1909, made the address to the Class of 1941, and presented the diplomas. His daughter, Jo Mackay, is a member of the honor group and received an award.

As an expression of esteem, the members of the school board passed a special resolution electing Mr. Mackay president of the board pro tem, for the purpose of signing his daughter's diploma, and a certified copy of this resolution, signed by all members of the board, was included with the presentation of this diploma.

WARREN POLICE ARE NOW UNDER CIVIL SERVICE

Ten members of the Warren Police Department have been placed under civil service by a bill signed yesterday by Governor James in Harrisburg.

The bill signed by the governor placed under civil service all police forces of three or more members in boroughs, towns and first class townships.

Members of the local department who come under the ruling are: Chief George F. Haehn, Captain Ray Eckardt, Wallace Outrid, Jerry Park, Mike Evan, Gordon Munn, Gerry Bean, Loren Bidwell, Charles Musante and Gerald Conboy.

Under the bill, present forces retain their jobs, but hereafter appointments will be made only from lists certified by local commissions. Police may be removed only for these six general causes after appointment:

(1) Physical or mental disability, which would retire them of duty with an honorable discharge; (2) neglect or violation of any official duty; (3) violation of any law, which is classed as a misdemeanor or felony; (4) inefficiency, neglect, intemperance, disobedience of orders or conduct unbecoming an officer; (5) intoxication while on duty; (6) engaging or participating in any political or election campaign other than the exercise of right of suffrage.

The law specifically prohibits removal for religious, racial or political reasons.

Councils of boroughs must appoint a civil service commission by July 31, one member of which may be a councilman but the two others must hold no public office. The terms of the initial commission are to be staggered at two, four and six years, while succeeding commissions will be six-year bodies. The members serve without pay.

The council's choice for chief of police need only take a non-competitive exam for general qualifications, but others must be selected from the top three on the civil service list.

Father - Daughter Teams On Program For Commencement

A pleasant feature of the commencement exercises of the Class of 1941 was the presence of several "father and daughter" teams on the program. The invocation and benediction were given by Rev. M. C. Hamlin, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, whose daughter, Mary Elizabeth Hamlin, was a member of the class.

Byron Knapp, Class of 1917, gave the Alumni welcome, and his daughter, Patty Knapp, is a member of the honor group and received several awards. Floyd W. Bathurst, Warren High School principal, presented the awards and his daughter, Margaret Bathurst, received one of these.

Robert W. Mackay, treasurer of the school district, Class of 1909, made the address to the Class of 1941, and presented the diplomas. His daughter, Jo Mackay, is a member of the honor group and received an award.

As an expression of esteem, the members of the school board passed a special resolution electing Mr. Mackay president of the board pro tem, for the purpose of signing his daughter's diploma, and a certified copy of this resolution, signed by all members of the board, was included with the presentation of this diploma.

Defense Tries Factory-Built Housing

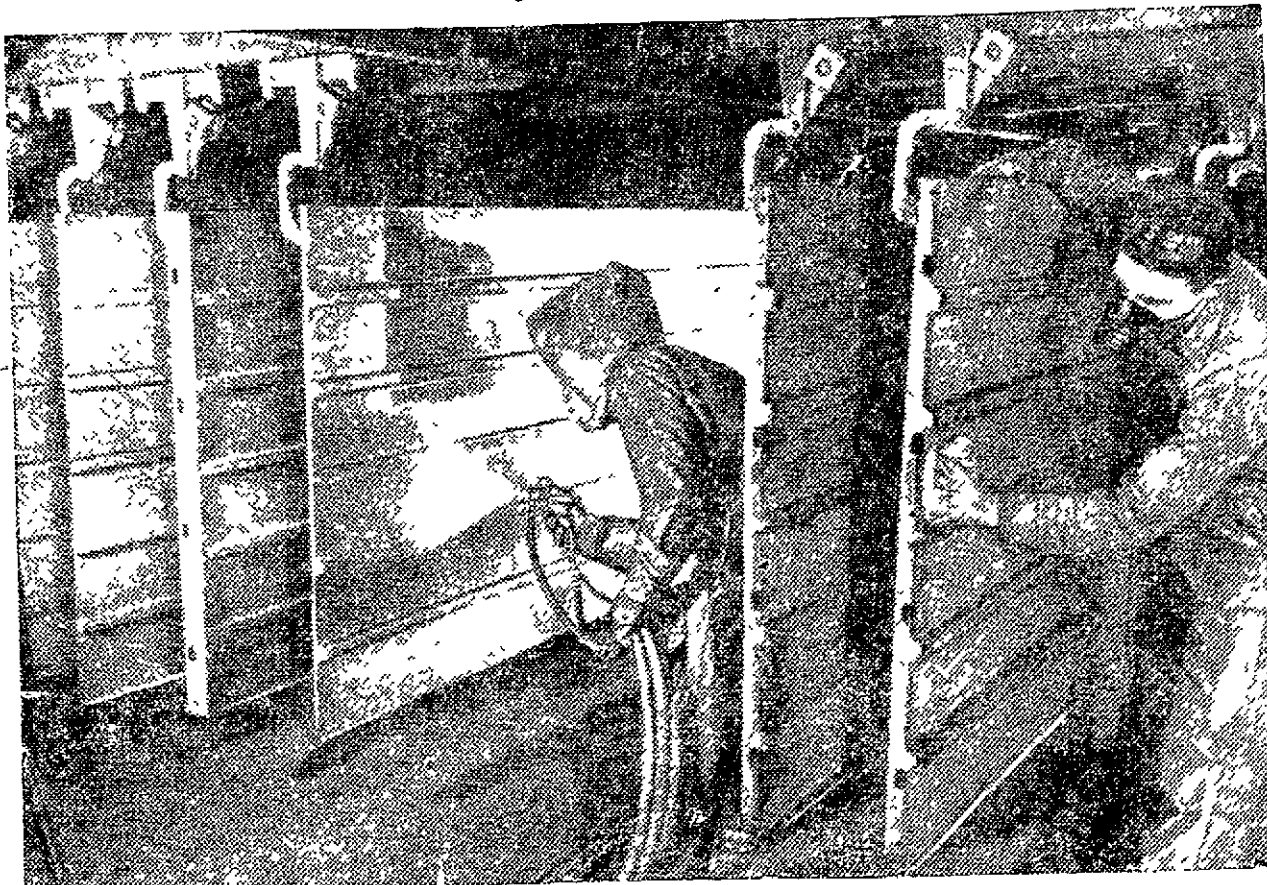

AP Feature Service

A success chapter in the quest of defense workers for homes is that being written by prefabricated houses—factory-built dwellings turned out on a mass production basis.

Put up in hours, rather than days, they are playing an important role in answering demand for quickly-built homes in the industrial areas which form the backbone of defense production. Most can be dismantled as easily as assembled, shipped away when needed in another area.

The house being built in these pictures has a demountable steel frame anchored to a steel base, welded steel wall frame work, and steel sheets for its roof. Sheathed with wall board and finished off with asbestos shingles, it can be erected by a 10-man crew in a single eight-hour day.

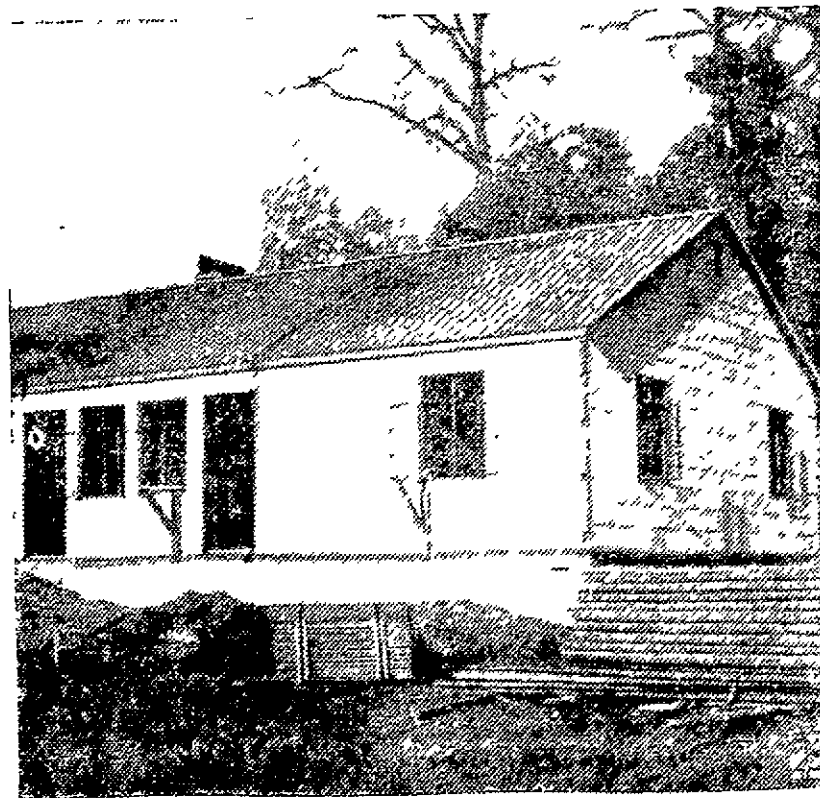

This house was built at the Quantico, Va., base of the U. S. Marine Corps one of several thousand prefabricated houses ordered by the government.

The story of the prefabricated house begins at the factory where its parts are turned out on a mass production basis. These workmen are applying paint to steel panels preparatory to shipment.

Imagine moving a house on a truck this size but that's virtually what you see. These panels are for the roof.

Its steel framework covered with wall boarding and asbestos shingles, the finished house really looks permanent.

Defense Tries Factory-Built Housing

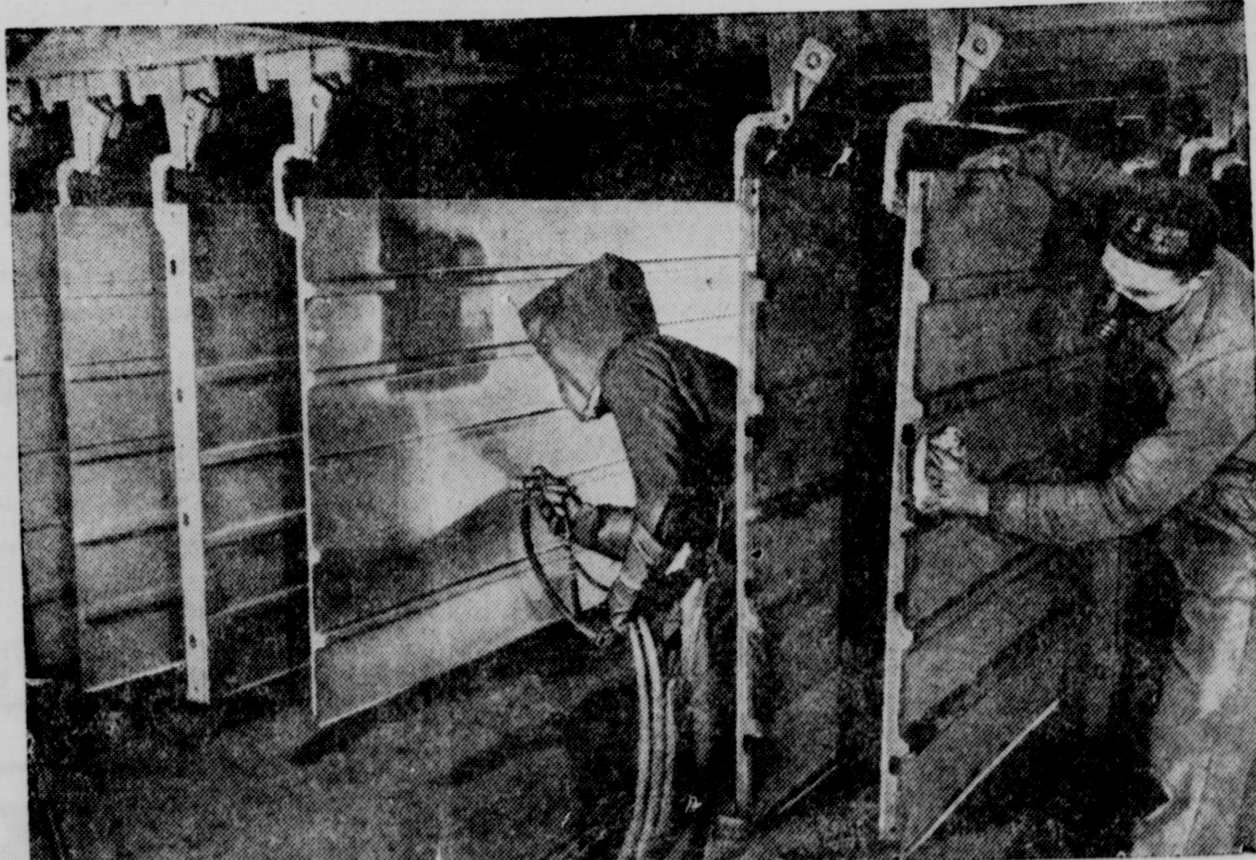

AP Feature Service

A success chapter in the quest of defense workers for homes is that being written by prefabricated houses—factory-built dwellings turned out on a mass production basis.

Put up in hours, rather than days, they are playing an important role in answering demand for quickly-built homes in the industrial areas which form the backbone of defense production. Most can be demounted as easily as assembled, shipped away when needed in another area.

The house being built in these pictures has a demountable steel frame anchored to a steel base, welded steel wall frame work, and steel sheets for its roof. Sheathed with wall board and finished off with asbestos shingles, it can be erected by a 10-man crew in a single eight-hour day.

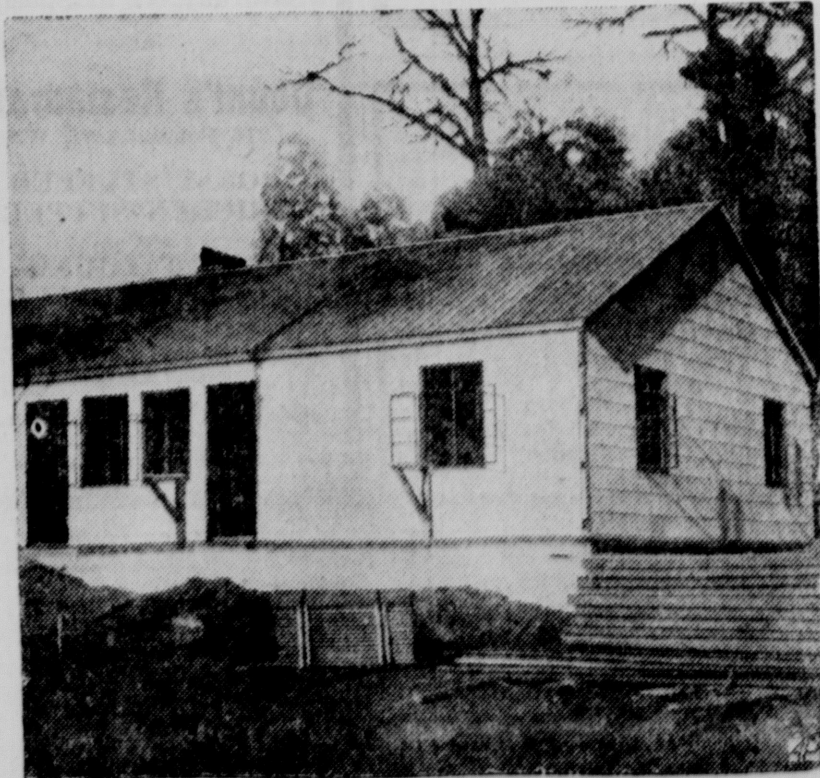

This house was built at the Quantico, Va., base of the U. S. Marine Corps, one of several thousand prefabricated houses ordered by the government.

The story of the prefabricated house begins at the factory where its parts are turned out on a mass production basis. These workmen are applying paint to steel panels preparatory to shipment.

Imagine moving a house on a truck this size but that's virtually what you see. These panels are for the roof.

Its steel framework covered with wall boarding and asbestos shingles, the finished house really looks permanent.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—There is cheering news to report. The colony of ringtailed raccoons that has haunted the vicinity of Ben Mar- den's Riviera is back. It wouldn't be the same without those 'coons there. For seven years they have turned up regularly with the opening of each season at the Riviera. They come out of the dense woods and the thickets on the rocky shelf of the Palisades off Ft. Lee, N. J., where the club is situated. They come in strength, perhaps a dozen of them, most of them great fat waddling fellows, others smaller, a trifle more timid. These are the new members of the family, but they will learn in time that for only friendly interest plentiful supplies of food are theirs for the asking.

These wild fellows are the particular pets of the Riviera staffs of cooks and waiters. Marden takes his staff, including chauffeur and barber, to Florida every fall with him, and brings them back in the summer. One of the first things they do on returning at set out tempting dishes for those coons.

These fat, amiable coons are perhaps the only wild animals in New York who have been reared in a nightclub atmosphere. They are frequently the center of attraction, tying with the actors for applause. The guests have learned that if they sit next to the outer windows, overlooking the river, that they can glance down and witness a display of animal life that is rare indeed in a metropolitan setting.

Could these raccoons but talk they could discuss the better-known names of show business with a savour that would be lifting to the eyebrows. . . . For they know Sophie Tucker and Harry Richman, Joe E. Lewis and Pancho. . . . They know Jimmy Savoy, the little man with the baggy pants and the pathetic smile. . . . They know Milton Berle and Eddie Cantor. . . . They know Rave and Naldi, and they are familiar with the halfbeats and the gourd-chaunts of half the Latin music slingers from here to Rio.

Welcome back to the raccoons, and welcome back to the Riviera, which, to me, has always been the answer to a hot night in Manhattan. This is a beautiful club high on a rocky shelf overlooking the strange, lordly Hudson. . . . When you look out upon the waters from that height at night, a ship looks like a little chunk of wood.

WHEN you turn your eyes from the waters to the stage you see a floor show headed, at this writing, by Savoy, who is this observer's favorite comedian. Savoy is a pantomimist. . . . Last winter he started in a full-length Broadway review, and he was the only character in the cast. It was a one-man show, and Jimmy played all the parts.

His most famous or rather his identifying skit, as you must remember, is "River Slay Away from My Door." . . . To see him languidly reach down and with a flick of the wrist, shove the river away from his door is to witness one of the genuine classics of the American theater. . . . It is something that is not forgotten.

Japanese Issue Cites Loyalty as a Virtue

PECULIARLY significant are the characters on this 1940 Japanese issue, signifying loyalty and filial piety. For rumors have been drifting around lately tending to indicate that Japan's citizenry is slowly becoming dissatisfied with the military powers responsible for the long and costly China "incident."

Today a definite part of the world picture, Japan, 100 years ago, was isolated and insulated against virtually all outside civilization. Because of disturbances wrought by early Christian missionaries, the Japanese issued an edict in 1636 banning all foreigners and cutting off trade with everyone but the Dutch, who had sent no missionaries to the Land of the Rising Sun.

Commodore Perry first opened the door to Japan in 1854 and two years later an official treaty was signed between the United States and Japan permitting commerce. Other nations soon followed this procedure, and Japan was launched on a modern era that today makes her a threat to American peace in the Pacific.

The stamp above was issued in commemoration of the 50th anniversary of the imperial rescript on education, given by Emperor Meiji to clarify Japan's educational policy.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From the Warren Evening Times

In 1921

At Monday's meeting of borough council the gift of six acres of ground on Conewango avenue from David W. Beatty and his wife, Susan E. Beatty, was accepted. The tract is to be used for park purposes and a public playground.

A solution of the overcrowded condition of the High school will be solved to a considerable extent during the next school year by the erection on the high school grounds of a portable two-room school building which will accommodate at least 80 pupils.

Many will doubt the fact that at least a quarter of a million dollars goes up in smoke from the two score or more manufacturing plants in Warren who use coal to fire their boilers. It requires an average of 40 cars weekly to supply the local demand.

Street cars on all local lines were motionless between the hours of nine and ten last night and the passengers who were determined to "stick it out" had a long and uneventful wait. The trouble was caused at the Stoneham power plant.

This season promises to be one of the busiest of the season at the Warren Outing Club with several parties scheduled.

There are 126 Class One railroads in the United States.

In 1931

An enthusiastic group took part in the "100 to 1 Shot" Treasure Hunt for the benefit of the Warren Relief Fund Saturday Harry Knoff piloted the car that first uncovered the various clues and found the $100. The last clue leading to the $100 lead to the county jail and the money was found in a cell occupied by Chester S. Allen, who had placed himself in voluntary confinement until the treasure was found.

Mrs. W. J. Humiston is the only Gold Star Mother in the county who will make the trip to France to visit the grave of her heroic son who lost his life during the World War. She will leave Warren on June 10 for New York City.

Warren county students to be graduated at Allegheny College on Tuesday are James E. Springer, Alice Cahle, Leon R. Moutland, Naomi Norris, Guilford Jones and Ruth Farquhar.

Mrs. Chester Allen, Mrs. L. W. Dornan, Mrs. E. H. Ley, entered their bids at the County Fair during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Phelps left yesterday morning to motor to Chicago, where they will attend the National Radio Trade show.

The police department issued a notice to the streets "Spray with its annual hair bob."

A Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—The capital is a funny place: When the Interior Department wanted 1,800 tons of aluminum cable to run over the Cascade mountains, the department couldn't get it without going through the red tape of clearing through priorities.

The cable was wanted to carry high tension power leads to a new Washington state factory to make aluminum.

National defense has increased the Capitol police force about 50 per cent. It now costs $155,680 a year to guard the Capitol and $117,360 more to guard the House and Senate office buildings.

Every week, William P. Lamberton, R.-Kas., and vigorous opponent of the administration, writes into the Congressional Record a little column of satirical or biting humor. He never had explained why until the other day, when he told the House: "I apologize to my colleagues for the little column that I put in the Record every week. I am doing it just because Ramsey Black, third assistant postmaster, said that I could not frank them out."

(Speeches that go into the Record may be mailed out postage free; otherwise they cannot be mailed under the congressman's franking privilege unless they come under the heading of official business.)

Samples of Mr. Lamberton's columnar observations:

"We do not know LaGuardia's plans as head of civilian defense, but we venture they are expensive ones."

"Constitution reigned at the State department when all the Americans on the Zanzibar finally turned up safe in Nazi hands."

"The only failure the President admits in eight long years is his effort to move up Thanksgiving day. It is the only time he has been up against a higher power."

The House of Representatives restaurant has been losing about $1,800 a month, but the congressman and management will hasten to tell you that it is not because they get their food there any cheaper than any voter could get it in any chop house serving similar food.

It's because during those short one- to three-day recesses, the restaurant must remain open for service to the few who hang around. These are so few that the operating expense for those periods soars over the intake.

On the same day that a well-known aviatrix was finishing a three-day campaign for women in defense aviation and explaining how women fliers are serving Great Britain and how they might serve the United States, the civilian pilot training program officials announced they were no longer accepting girl students. The only explanation was that the program was being put on a defense basis. They added, however, that no decision had been made about girl enrollees for the summer term starting July 1.

Not long ago, Rep. Hamilton Fish, of New York, told the House that he had heard that the boys in training at Fort Bragg (N. C.) were not getting enough food and that what they were getting wasn't any good.

The other day, Rep. Hamilton Fish, who also is a colonel in the reserve, was called to duty for a month's training — at Fort Bragg.

CAPITAL GOSSIP

By JACK STINETT

WASHINGTON—Because of the crush of sensational day-to-day news, practically nothing is heard about it, but government officials are giving more and more attention to post-war economic blueprints.

As yet there is no overall plan. But it crops up frequently in such statements as "big government is here to stay"—"don't get the idea that defense jobs are temporary jobs"—and the remark of Philip Reed, priorities consultant, before the National Association of Manufacturers: "I suspect the war will advance several decades the Twentieth Century trend away from laissez-faire and toward economic integration and industry-wide planning under government supervision."

And almost every government department is working on defense efforts is trying to match its defense plans with a plan for an after-the-war "return to normalcy."

McKENNEY DISCOVERS YOUNG BRIDGE STAR AT OHIO MATCHES
BY WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority

As I travel around the country I am always on the lookout for a coming young star and I think I discovered one at the Ohio State Tournament this year.

I played with a young chap, Jack Denny, of Toledo, O., in the Pair event and while we only finished fifth, I predict that it won't be long before you see this young fellow's name on one of the master trophies of bridge.

His bidding has a natural soundness to it and his card playing is excellent as is well demonstrated in this hand.

When dummy went down, Denny decided that East must have doubled a long trump holding. Hence the proper plan never to lead trumps, but to make as many trumps as possible by cross-ruff. The opening lead was won by the ace of hearts and dummy led

 ♠ A J 5 ♥ A 8 ♦ A 6 4 ♣ J 7 5 4 3 	 N E S Dealer 	 ♠ K 10 8 6 ♥ J 5 ♦ Q 9 8 3 ♣ K 2
 ♠ None ♥ Q 10 9 6 ♦ K J 10 2 ♣ Q 10 9 8

the other heart, the king winning. Next South cashed the ace of clubs and led the six, won by East's king. East exited with a diamond, forcing the ace.

Dummy led a club, West discarded a diamond, and South ruffed. South led a heart for dummy to ruff with the ace. Another club was led, and again East discarded, South ruffing. Denny led his last heart and ruffed with the jack of trumps.

In order to avoid the end-play that ensued, East would have had to discard a small trump under one of the ruffs. But he had let go all his diamonds, saving all five trumps. Now he over-ruffed and jack of spades with the king, and then had to lead a small trump, letting South make the seven.

South exited with the losing diamond, forcing East back with a ruff. Then East had to lead from his minor tenace and give South the last two tricks.

Denny thus made four odd, doubled at three.

Simple Coiffure Best for Summer

Here's the simple, casual, cool-looking version of one of the new two-way coiffures for summer. The hair is parted in the middle, brushed slightly upward at temples and arranged in loose ringlets at the back. Much of its charm depends on healthy, shiny hair, free from excess oil or dandruff.

And here is the formal version of the two-way coiffure, designed by a famous hair stylist. The transformation is quickly achieved by pinning across the front a piece of false hair that is a soft roll with attached bangs. Back ends are brushed upward over the finger to form rolls instead of ringlets.

CAPITAL GOSSIP

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Because of the crush of sensational day-to-day news, practically nothing is heard about it, but government officials are giving more and more attention to post-war economic blueprints.

As yet there is no overall plan. But it crops up frequently in such statements as "big government is here to stay"—"don't get the idea that defense jobs are temporary jobs"—and the remark of Philip Reed, priorities consultant, before the National Association of Manufacturers: "I suspect the war will advance several decades the Twentieth Century trend away from laissez-faire and toward economic integration and industry-wide planning under government supervision."

And almost every government department that is working on defense efforts is trying to match its defense plans with a plan for an after-the-war "return to normalcy."

As OPM Sees It

IN Agriculture's scheme for increased production of wartime necessities, the emphasis on building up milk and egg production, for example, is not on increasing the number of cows and chickens, but on feeding for greater production. The department's guarantee of "floors" on prices of certain wanted products extends only one to two years—the period it is estimated that these products will be needed by a world at war or by a world that returns suddenly to peace with no prospect of immediate production in other lands besides the U. S.

In the Office of Production Management, officials will tell you that reduction in the manufacture of automobiles, ice boxes and other products using steel and aluminum not only has its defense aspect but its post-war aspect as well. Defense metals are conserved now for defense uses—and a future demand for cars, ice boxes and such is being built up that will go far, it is hoped, toward taking up the post-war slack.

The coaches of trains 75 years ago were little larger than freight train cabooses of today.

One out of every four persons in Iceland speaks English.

This kind of double-barreled reasoning is being applied to almost every economic defense move. Another example of it is the nation-wide civilian pilot training program. The thought is only partially to provide a backlog of pilots with elementary training who can move on into the army or navy. Just as important is the creation of thousands of potential buyers for our vastly expanded airplane factories.

Washington Gossip

THERE have been no detailed plans because the future is too uncertain. But already there is talk of vast public works projects—perhaps a great system of super-highways, bigger reclamation projects even than Boulder, Bonneville and Grand Coulee, and a nation-wide overhauling of housing. So far, this is only Washington conversation, but the fact that it is conversation is significant.

The one phase of the picture that is not clear is employment. Something apparently is happening in the labor market that the defense planners didn't figure on. In spite of the fact that production activity is greater than in 1929—that 1,500,000 men or more are under arms—labor experts and the two big unions estimate unemployment still is from six to nine millions. The explanation given is that women and young men, attracted by defense wages, have left their kitchens or schools to take employment. These were not heretofore considered in the labor market.

If this is true, and these young men and women stay in the labor market after the war is over, it may present a very difficult problem.

Commencement Salutatory Address

Following is the salutatory address given at the Warren High School Commencement exercises last night by Harold Johnson, honor student:

"We, the class of 1941, cordially welcome you to this, the 64th commencement program given by Warren High School. Tonight is a great occasion—one of the brightest spots in all our student life. To some of you, it may be a pleasant reminder of earlier hopes and aims in your own lives—thoughts and emotions on a similar occasion. We hope our program will give you a deeper understanding of all that we are feeling and dreaming here tonight. We are glad that, having survived our first real test, we are going out into the world on our chosen paths, but we are sorry that such splendid associations as ours should cease. Up to now we have been leading a sheltered life together; after tonight we shall lead our own lives and make our own decisions—big or small, right or wrong. Tonight we want you to come along with us as our pageant, "Freedom Through the Ages," attempts to depict what its title suggests—that spirit which has moved men for hundreds of years to risk their lives, their fortunes, and their honor for the right to live in a free and unregulated manner. Since the beginning of time, Liberty has been the guiding star leading this world to better things.

"May this evening be a pleasant and worthwhile occasion as you enjoy with us this—our last high school appearance. Again we, the class of 1941, say most sincerely, 'Welcome.'"

Last British outpost in the eastern Mediterranean is Cyprus, "unwelcome mat" on the threshold of Syria and key corner in the Suez defense triangle. Britain annexed it in 1914 after domination by Greeks, Phoenicians, Persians, Romans and Turks, calls the 370,000 natives Cypriots. The island's 3,572 square miles yield wheat, barley and cotton. At least six R. A. F. airports have been built here: a naval base shelters war craft at Famagusta, within girdler distance of Syria.

Valedictory Address Delivered By Top Honor Student of W.H.S.

Following is the valedictory address given at the Warren High School commencement exercises last evening by Miss Patty Knapp, top honor student:

Commencement—the end and the beginning! Tonight the Class of 1941 is assembled for the last time; tonight marks the culmination of our high school career; tonight, in a measure, is the beginning of our adult life. There is a note of sadness in this thought—we hesitate to leave the school which has come to mean so much to us; the friendships which are so deeply a part of us—and yet the spirit of adventure calls. A new world lies before us, a strange and fascinating world which holds the key to our future, and we are eager to take our place in it. We expect great things of ourselves and we hope that you, also expecting great things of us, may not be disappointed.

Yes, tonight marks the end of many phases of our life, above all the end of restraint, the beginning of freedom. Until now, we have been governed by restrictions imposed upon us by our parents and our teachers, we have always had someone to remind us of things undone, we have received definite assignments of work, now we are free to a certain extent to do as we please, we must develop a keen sense of personal responsibility, on our own initiative we must make our work sufficiently outstanding among hundreds of others to merit success. We shall learn that independence means responsibility instead of routine, inward self control in place of external restraint. Whether we go on to college or not, no one will tell us that we must work for success—that will be our own decision. We will set up our own standard of values, we will determine and stand by our ideals, we will have faith in decency, justice, equality, and good will or in their opposites, as we ourselves decide. It is difficult to judge which aims are worth serving, but we must do just that—set a goal and build our life around it, for life cannot stand still, it is always either consecration or desecration. If we are to know happiness and success, we must bind our freedom to the right way of life and base it on a sound judgment and a stable sense of values.

As we reach the bend in the stream which leads from the sheltered current into the deeper channels of active life, we are deeply grateful to our parents for their loving sacrifices in our behalf and to our parents and our teachers for their patient understanding and unobtrusive guidance through the years. If we have gained in any degree the stable sense of values and the straight thinking habit so necessary in life, it is to them that we owe it. They have taught us to aim high and to accept only the best from ourselves. With them we have developed that most invaluable asset, a sense of humor; we have tasted responsibility; we have learned to live with other people. And now that we are ready to accept our new freedom, we give them a vote of thanks for their priceless aid and support in preparing us for it. On our night of nights, we cannot forget the Board of Education—may we extend our thanks to them for their wise judgment and careful planning which have stood behind us throughout the course of our education.

Classmates, many associations which have meant so much to us during the past few years are dissolved this evening. In the future we shall find new friends and new interests, but our high school experiences will always have a place in our hearts. Whenever we may go the blue and white of Warren High will stir us with a sense of pride and possession. Let us part this evening indulging in pleasant memories of a past spent together and with best wishes for a future to be spent apart. Let us not become discouraged in the life ahead of us, let us dare to dream and work to make our dreams come true. Let us remember that a kite rises against and not with the wind, and despite all obstacles let us keep our kites of success and happiness flying high.

1ST METHODIST CHURCH PICNIC BEING PLANNED

Elaborate plans are being made for the First Methodist church and Sunday school picnic which is scheduled to be held next Wednesday afternoon and evening. Enthusiasm has been running high among members of the several committees and success of the outing is assured.

Those in charge of selecting a site have chosen Camp Complanter, at Dunkle's Corners, between Kinzua and Kane, six and one-half miles from Kinzua. This beautiful and comparatively new camp, built by the government, is now under the supervision of the State Young Men's Christian Association. A large, all-cement swimming pool makes the camp all the more adaptable for such a gathering. Entertainment will include numerous games and contests for the enjoyment of both old and young members of the church and Sunday school and their friends. There will be swimming all afternoon with Jasper Shepard and Frank Willard, Red Cross Life Savers, on hand.

It has been announced that coffee, cream, sugar and lemonade will be furnished by the committee and those planning to attend should bring well-filled baskets for the family picnic. The entertainment committee consists of Ralph Theodore, Dr. J. R. Elliott, Mrs. Mary Brown, Mrs. Hazel Norris, Marshall Johnson, C. A. Babcock, Mrs. Ray Lewis, Mrs. Walter Parsons and Taylor Judd.

A limited amount of transportation will be furnished from the church at two o'clock. Personnel of the transportation committee is Ernest Garber, Ira Brown and Earle Christensen.

Following is the afternoon program:

2:30 to 4:00—Games in charge of Grace Schuler Virginia Parsons, Clair Elliott, James Shortt, Patty Knapp and Steve Saylor.
4:00 to 5:30—Mushball and volleyball games supervised by Marshall Johnson and Ray Lewis; also hikes in charge of Katherine Reed and Dorothy Holmberg.
7:00 to 8:00—Games for older folks with Paul Gary, Jack Cogswell and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hagberg supervising.
In charge of the evening program from eight to nine o'clock will be Earl Flohr, Helen Ransom and Margaret McCurdy.

"Hunt the Slipper"

Angela Adams had to have a pair of silver slippers for a party. She wanted low heels, loads of style, size 7 AAA... and she didn't want to pay more than ten dollars.

Angela Adams went down town to "look." She dashed here and she dashed there. She stuffed her protesting feet into seventeen pairs of silver slippers. Some were too high at the heel, some were too expensive... few of them fit. Finally, in desperation, she took a pair of gold ones, with high heels, size 7 AA.

Angela Adams had a horrid time at the party. She was too tired to be gay. She couldn't dance because her feet were killing her. She retired to the dressing-room, and took off the offending shoes. A sympathetic maid gave her a paper to read.

Angela Adams dropped to the floor with a low moan... the paper spread open to an advertisement which read:

SILVER SANDALS for a PARTY GIRL
Flat-heeled, new as new, in a whole range of normal, and out-sizes. And only $9.75!

Moral: Do your slipper-hunting in these columns. Excellent, too, for ice-boxes... hats... stockings... dust-pans... and all the best values in everything!

TIONA SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT PROGRAM HELD

Very well attended commencement exercises were held Wednesday evening at eight o'clock in the Washington School at Tiona, with H. L. Blair, county superintendent of schools, presenting diplomas to the eighth grade graduates.

The program, in which all the class members participated, was as follows:

This Circus Truly American As Melting Pot Era Passes

Russell Bros. Greater American Circus is just what its name implies. This popular three-ringer, coming to the Old Brewery Circus Grounds, Warren, Monday, June 9, makes no claims on the name American merely because people are more conscious now how much that word means. This is actually an all-American circus.

The circus in this country has always been analogous in its make-up to the nation itself. The circus has been one place where international good will really worked, its "backyard" a miniature melting pot of national groups. English, German, Irish, Italian, Austrian, Spanish, Hungarian, Latin American and Oriental circus families have tramped together for generations, sometimes inter-marrying, always respecting each other's ways and rights.

But today the American circus acts in this country outnumber the foreign ones. By the year 1941 there are many American circus families with traditions of trouping that go back several generations.

Although most of these American performers are native-born, there is still a cosmopolitan tang to circus life in such Americanized troupes in the Russell Circus as the Acevedos or the transplant-ed Clarks.

The Acevedos are Latin Americans, hailing from south of the border. And the Clarks, whose name has long been honored in English circuses, have a new generation of native-born Americans in their family act, with lovely young Ernestine as star of their troupe.

The owners of Russell Bros., springing from pioneer American stock, have run their show from the beginning with the desire to bring to Americans the best big top entertainment at such moderate prices that no American need find circus-going a costly luxury. And their circus is as American as ice cream or strawberry pop.

Cavalcante to be First Witness Over Plot Charges

ad possible" in the inquiry.

Cavalcante, at his home in Uniontown, said the committee would not "have to take it very far, I assure you" to substantiate his charges.

Specifically, he declared that there was "a conspiracy existing between some leaders of the Democratic party and members of the general assembly to stifle good legislation and to permit only legislation to pass that will benefit groups or individuals who may be perhaps very satisfactory as contributors to the political campaigns."

Senator Harry Shapiro, Democratic floor leader, "challenged" Cavalcante to "prove" his statements. Rep. Leo A. Achtermann, the Democratic House leader, said the Fayette senator was "irresponsible" in his statements, adding:

"If substantiated, punishment may be meted out to those who enter into any conspiracy. If not substantiated then the House as well as the state of Pennsylvania may know the statements were those of an irresponsible person."

This new issue cropping up in the closing days of the 1941 session threatened to disrupt plans for final adjournment, intended for the end of next week.

Achtermann said, however, he didn't think "the investigation would add one day to the length of the session."

Appointment of the special committee concluded the week's activities yesterday and the Senate quit until 3:30 p. m. (EST) Monday and the House until 8 o'clock that night.

lan presided at the session, which was attended by General Maxime Weygand, generalissimo of Vichy armed forces in North Africa; Pierre Boisson, governor general of French West Africa, and Admiral Jean Esteva, president of Tunisia.

A communiqué issued at the end of the session said merely that it "dealt with questions relating to French Africa" and that the colonial chiefs were present.

Authorized quarters again formally denied reports that German troops had occupied Damascus, capital of Syria.

Official reaction to Secretary Hull's statement yesterday was lacking, immediately, although French circles considered it a reply to Admiral Darlan's recent anti-British comment.

The American cabinet officials' words apparently were being carefully studied by government circles. Berlin, June 6.—(P)—U. S. Secretary of State Hull's statement that German-French collaboration would be inimical to the rights of other countries was dismissed by an authorized German spokesman today as "France's affair."

He said that in connection with Hull's intimation of U. S. economic and financial aid which France might expect, American aid thus far has amounted to four shiploads of supplies.

"You might call it American vitamin politics," he said, "whereby a small bait is dangled before France to make it believe much more assistance will be forthcoming if French politics should make it agreeable to America."

In a series of denials, the spokesman sought also to counteract reports abroad of extraordinary developments expected in the Balkans.

For the present, however, Germany sees no reason to define her attitude publicly, Dienst said, since the whole affair concerns France.

Red Sox Climb To Third Place Via Five Game Win Streak

Boston Only Three Games Behind Tribe; A's Stop White Sox

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Recognition already has been given the Athletics in a late-blooming miracle of the spring. The A's should move over to make room for the Boston Red Sox.

Joe Cronin's glib-edged American Leagueers have done a lot of aimless wandering, some of it in the second division since winning five in a row at the start of the season.

Just nine days ago they slipped to sixth place, the mighty Jimmie Foxx benched himself because of a betting slump, and the future was clouded with uncertainty.

Yet today they are up in third place with a brand-new five-game winning streak and are only three games behind the pace-making Cleveland Indians whom they crushed yesterday, 14-1.

Since May 27 they have not failed to get 10 or more hits in every contest, their pitchers have come through with four complete games and the whole club is geared at a high speed.

Mickey Harris, the 25-year-old New York southerner who is about to be drafted into the army, has provided perhaps the biggest spark. Yesterday he smothered the Indians with six-hit pitching.

It was the worst out of the year for the Indians who didn't score until the eighth and wouldn't be in first place today except that the Athletics took care of the Chicago White Sox 9-3.

The A's reeled off six runs in the second inning on four bases on balls a triple by Wally Moses and doubles by Sam Chapman and

Skute's 69 Leads Open; Guldahl Off Pace With Sad 79

By WILLIAM T. RIVES

Fort Worth, Tex., June 6 (AP)—Battered in the opening round, pursuers of the National Open Golf Championship staggered through the ropes today for another tussle with Colonial Club's par.

All alone stood quiet little Denny Skute, sole man to master the course.

Skute, two-time winner of the P. G. A. championship, carved a 36-69 to beat par 35-35-70 in yesterday's first round.

The greatest opening day crowd in the tournament's history, approximately 8,000 persons, jammed the fairways behind their favorite threesome.

Overlooked by selectors who left him a 20-1 shot, Skute found the links a friend because of his mop, potently straight game.

Skute powder-puffs the ball in comparison with most of his fellows but that made no difference yesterday. He was off-line on only two holes.

Only two equalled par—Vic Ghezzi and Lanky E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, with identical scores of 35 on each nine.

Bunched behind the leaders with 11's were Gene Kunesv, of Philadelphia, former Canadian Open champion; Harold (Jug) McSpaden; Lawson Little, defending champion; Dick Metz, and Jack Ryan of Louisville, Ky.

Sharing 72's were Henry Ransom, local pride Clayton Heafner; Amateur Harry Todd of Dallas; Budny Torrey, of Dodson, Mo.; Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N. Y.; Bill Kaiser of Louisville, Ky., and Johnny Morris of Tuscaloosa, Ala.

The rest of the field sagged. Byron Nelson, Paul Runyan, Horton Smith, Craig Wood, Lloyd Mangrum and Chick Harbert were among the 73 shooters.

Ben Hogan, Gene Sarazen and Ed Dudley checked in with 74; John Bulla, Tony Penna and Jimmy McDermott, 75; Sam Snead, Johnny Goodman and Billy Burke, 76, and Henry Picard, 77.

Ralph Guldahl, who sprinted in as a hot favorite in the final days before the tourney started, had a sad 79.

Today's round was to eliminate all but the low 60 scorers and ties. Tomorrow comes the 36-hole finals.

CONN WILL BE CHANGED BOXER IN TITLE MATCH

By GAYLE TALBOT

Pompton Lakes, N. J., June 6—(AP)—Billy Conn, the classic young boxer from Pittsburgh, is so convincingly certain that he will win the heavyweight championship from Joe Louis on June 18 that he has even this charter member of the Louis-Is-Terrific-Club beginning to waver to and fro.

Billy has grown up remarkably in recent months. Not physically, for he finally has given up hope of outgrowing his natural 180 pounds, but mentally.

Now, instead of making flip cracks about his opponents and refusing to admit that anybody else can fight a lick, he sits and tells with the cold detachment of a surgeon how he will defeat the big negro. He sounds like a much more dangerous Billy Conn than was the slim-waisted firebrand who used to fly into a cursing rage when hit solidly and slug away like a back-alley fighter.

"I've always been that way," Conn smiled. "I know, you think I'll do that with Louis, too, and get my head knocked off. But I won't. I'll fool you and Louis and everybody else this time. I want that championship and I want to be on easy street too much to let my pride stop me."

Maybe he'll knock me down. I know Joe can punch, and he's a great fighter. But if he does not me down I'll guarantee you I'll take a full nine-count, and when I get up I won't be standing there with my hands hanging down.

"I'll be stepping around and giving him this with my hands and making him miss. Joe doesn't knock anybody out with one punch and I think I'm a little better boxer than those guys he's been putting away."

"I only hope he keeps waiting for me to get mad or careless. By the time he finds out different I'll have that championship. I'll hold in that radio: 'Easy Street, here I come. Here comes Billy Conn.'"

For that matter, it is necessary only to look at Billy to know he has been able to protect himself. Except for the scars of old cuts about his eyes his face is almost unmarked. In street clothes few persons would take him for a fighter. Unusually wide shoulders and big wrists and hands are about the only give-away.

Tests show that for every 10 pounds of pressure below normal a tire is allowed to drop, an 8 per cent decrease in mileage results.

SOOSE MANAGER REINSTATEMENT IS CONSIDERED

Harrisburg, June 6—(A)—A move is under way to effect peace between Manager Paul Moss and the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission so his middleweight championship, Billy Soose, will fight in this state.

Action of the state board in banning Moss as a manager because he accused Commissioner Harvey Boyle of prejudice against Soose has resulted in the champ turning down all bids to fight in his native Pennsylvania.

Here to witness a boxing show at which Soose was guest referee last night, Athletic Commissioner George Jones of Williamsport suggested a conference next Wednesday "to iron out" difficulties between Soose and the commission.

Down in sunny Italy these days the people haven't time to think of much other than fighting. However, that word fighting owns quite a few meanings, and when the subjects of Il Duca aren't trying to make a strategic war move, they are boxing exhibitions. We say exhibitions because that's what they are. This story will doubtless interest fight fans, so struggle on, if you can.

Here's the way these two washed-up scappers, with the cauliflower ears, go at it.

One of them is a small fellow and the other a huge giant-like character. The little fighter goes into a ring nightly in the different towns they hit, and challenges any man in the crowd. The minute the challenge is voiced, up bobs his bigger partner. The crowd figures it's all on the level, that is unless they've seen the show before. So the two pugilists prepare for a short struggle over show before. The humorous part of it all is that a route of just a few rounds of the fight fraternity hands his opponent, who is capable of committing anything including murder with the devil-like batter a terrific lacing, at least in the mind of the fans. Then, when the fight is over, the little man wins and every one praises his remarkable feat.

Well so far you've probably wondered why we're wasting space to tell you this, when the same thing happens in our national wrestling bouts. And here's the reason. The above is a story of a former world's heavyweight champion, and that towering block who doesn't seem to know one thing about the art of boxing, is Primo Camera, ex-heavy king, who won the title from Jack Sharkey in six rounds back in 1923, and then lost to Max Baer in '34 on a twelve round technical kayo. Camera made a lot of money for his minute career in the states, but he returned to Europe penniless, learning too late that everyone is the friend of a man with money as long as he has some in reserve. Now Camera is fighting for peanuts, a far cry from the "good old days" in the U. S. A.

Stukes and balls... Bill Dickey is making the greatest comeback of all of the 1940 failures... Dickey, whose slump at the plate was one of the main reasons the Yanks didn't push on top, is hitting enough to get 275 so far this season... Al Sharp, golf editor on the Atlanta Constitution, has a slot-machine putter which does everything except stroke the ball for him... Lead slugs are put in the head of the club to make it any weight he desires, and it is so satisfactory his opponents, so they say, concede twenty foot putts to him... The club cost him three dollars... According to Dillon Graham, sports editor of the AP feature service, Dumb Dan Morgan, the sage of Sock Street picks Conn over Louis... Well, we finally have company in our confidence in the Pittsburgh Adonis.

Max Schmeling Is Officially Alive

New York, June 6—(A)—Max Schmeling, former heavyweight boxing champion, who is now a Nazi parachute trooper, says he hopes the war ends soon and that he "can get together again" with his friends in the United States.

In a hospital ward set up at the former American College outside Athens, Schmeling is recuperating from a stomach disorder and the effects of fighting in Crete. Harry W. Flannery, CBS correspondent, reported last night in a broadcast from the Greek capital.

Here to witness a boxing show at which Soose was guest referee last night, Athletic Commissioner George Jones of Williamsport suggested a conference next Wednesday "to iron out" difficulties between Soose and the commission.

Red Sox Climb To Third Place Via Five Game Win Streak

Boston Only Three Games Behind Tribe; A's Stop White Sox

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Recognition already has been given the Athletics an a late-blooming miracle of the spring, but the A's should move over to make room for the Boston Red Sox.

Joe Cronin's gilt-edged American Leaguers have done a lot of aimless wandering, some of it in the second division, since winning five in a row at the start of the season.

Just nine days ago they shipped to sixth place, the mighty Jimmie Foxx bunched himself because of a batting slump, and the future was clouded with uncertainty.

Yet today they are up in third place with a brand-new five-game winning streak and are only three games behind the pace-making Cleveland Indians, whom they crushed yesterday, 14-1.

Since May 27 they have not failed to get 10 or more hits in every contest, their pitchers have come through with four complete games and the whole club is geared at high speed.

Mickey Harris, the 23-year-old New York southpaw who is about to be drafted into the army, has provided perhaps the biggest spark. Yesterday he smothered the Indians with six-hit pitching.

It was the worst rout of the year for the Indians, who didn't score until the eighth and wouldn't be in first place today except that the Athletics took care of the Chicago White Sox, 9-5.

The A's reeled off six runs in the second inning on four bases on balls, a triple by Wally Moses and doubles by Sam Chapman and Frank Hayes. After that Jack Knott checked the Sox with seven hits and the A's treated themselves to another three-run splurge in the eighth.

The Detroit Tigers took a 5-4 decision from the New York Yankees in 10 innings to complicate the American League race further by bunting no fewer than six teams within a range of four games.

The Tigers scored three runs in the sixth when Atley Donald went to pieces with the bases loaded, made two wild pitches and dropped a throw at the plate to let in all three runs. The Yankees tied the score on Tom Henrich's two-run homer in the ninth, but were beaten in the tenth when Rookie Pat Mullin opened with a double, two walks loaded the bases, and Pinky Higgins beat out a bounder for a single.

The St. Louis Browns sent Luke Sewell off to a good start as manager by whipping the Washington Senators, 4-2, for a sweep of their three-game series and their longest winning streak of the season. Rain washed out the National League program.

Skute's 69 Leads Open; Guldahl Off Pace With Sad 79

BY WILLIAM T. RIVES
Fort Worth, Tex., June 6.—(P.)—Battered in the opening round, pursuers of the National Open Golf Championship staggered through the ropes today for another tussle with Colonial Club's par.

Sharing 72's were Henry Ransom, local pride Clayton Heafner; Amateur Harry Todd of Dallas; Budny Torpey, of Dodson, Mo.; Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N. Y.; Bill Kaiser of Louisville, Ky., and Johnny Morris of Tuscaloosa, Ala.

The rest of the field sagged. Byron Nelson, Paul Runyan, Horton Smith, Craig Rudy, Lloyd Mangrum and Chick Harbert were among the 73 shooters.

Ben Hogan, Gene Sarazen and Ed Dudley checked in with 74; John Bulla, Tony Penna and Jimmy Demaret, 75; Sam Snead, Johnny Goodman and Billy Burke, 76, and Henry Picard, 77.

Ralph Guldahl, who sprinted in as a hot favorite in the final days before the tourney started, had a sad 79.

Today's round was to eliminate all but the low 60 scorers and ties. Tomorrow comes the 36-hole finals.

SOOSE MANAGER REINSTATEMENT IS CONSIDERED

Max Schmeling Is Officially Alive

New York, June 6.—(P.)—Max Schmeling, former heavyweight boxing champion, who is now a Nazi parachute trooper, says he hopes the war ends soon and that he "can get together again" with his friends in the United States.

In a hospital ward set up at the former American College outside Athens, Schmeling is recuperating from a stomach disorder and the effects of fighting in Crete. Harry W. Flannery, CBS correspondent, reported last night in a broadcast from the Greek capital.

"His illness probably has been due to drinking some chocolate abandoned by the British," Flannery said Schmeling told him in an interview. "The milk in it may have soured."

SPORT SPATTERINGS

Down in sunny Italy these days the people haven't time to think of much other than fighting. However, that word fighting owns quite a few meanings, and when the subjects of Il Duce aren't trying to make a strategic war move, they are being entertained these days by a couple of touring pugilists who put on boxing exhibitions. We say exhibitions because that's what they are. This story will doubtless interest fight fans, so struggle on, if you can.

Here's the way these two washed-up scrappers, with the cauliflower ears, go at it.

One of them is a small fellow and the other a huge giant-like character. The little fighter goes into a ring nightly in the different towns they hit, and challenges any man in the crowd. So the two pugilists prepare for a short struggle over a route of just a few rounds. The humorous part of it all is that the little member of the fight fraternity including murder who seems capable of committing the most heinous crimes, at least in the mind of the fans. Then, when the fight is over, the little man wins and every one praises his remarkable feat.

Well, so far you've probably wondered why we're wasting space to tell you this, when the same thing happens in our national wrestling bouts. And here's the reason. The above is a story of a former world's heavyweight champion, and the rut into which he has fallen. The little man is not identified, but the boxing is Primo Carnera, ex-heavy king, who won the title from Jack Sharkey in six rounds back in 1935, and then lost to Max Baer in '34 on a twelve round technical kayo. Carnera made a lot of money for his minute career in the states, but he returned to Europe penniless, learning too late that everyone is the friend of a man with money, as long as he has some in reserve. Now Carnera is fighting for peanuts, a far cry from the "good old days" in the U. S. A.

New York, June 6.—Broadway is saying Arthur Donovan won't be in there when Joe Louis goes against Billy Conn, Arturo seems to be in very Dutch since the Buddy Baer fight... One of floral pieces at the Lou Gehrig funeral came from President and Mrs. Roosevelt—a swell gesture... There isn't a thing wrong with Jimmy Foxx that a few lusty base-hits won't cure... We're still sticking to Byron Nelson to come through at Fort Worth... Fellows who knew Bud Taylor when he was going good say he earned nearer $1,000,000 than $100,000, as we had it. Anyway, Old Bud would be glad to settle for that latter figure now.

To date this column has received 178 tributes to Lou Gehrig (both prose and poetry), which gives you an idea how the old iron man rated all over... CONN WILL BE CHANGED BOXER IN TITLE MATCH

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Pompton Lakes, N. J., June 6.—(P.)—Billy Conn, the classic young boxer from Pittsburgh, is so convincingly certain that he will win the heavyweight championship from Joe Louis on June 18 that he has even this charter member of the Louis-Is-Terrific-Club beginning to waver to and fro.

Billy has grown up remarkably in recent months. Not physically, for he finally has given up hope of outgrowing his natural 189 pounds, but mentally.

Now, instead of making flip cracks about his opponents and refusing to admit that anybody else can fight a lick, he sits and tells with the cold detachment of a surgeon how he will defeat the big negro. He sounds like a much more dangerous Billy Conn than was his slim waistline firebrand who used to fly into a cursing rage when hit solidly and slug away like a back-alley fighter.

"I've always been that way," Conn smiled. "I know, you think I'll do that with Louis, too, and get my head knocked off. But I won't. I'll fool you and Louis and everybody else this time. I want that championship and I want to be on easy street too much to let my pride stop me."

"Maybe he'll knock me down. I know Joe can punch, and he's a great fighter. But if he does put me down I'll guarantee you I'll take a full nine-count, and when I get up I won't be standing there with my hands hanging down."

"I'll be stepping around and giving him this waistline firebrand making him miss. Joe doesn't knock anybody out with one punch and I think I'm a little better boxer than these guys he's been putting away."

"I only hope he keeps waiting for me to get mad or careless. By the time he finds out different I'll have that championship. I'll holler in that radio, 'Easy Street, here I come. Here comes Billy Conn.'"

For that matter, it is necessary only to look at Billy to know he has been able to protect himself. Except for the scars of old cuts about his eyes his face is almost unmarked. In street clothes few persons would take him for a fighter. Unusually wide shoulders and big wrists and hands are about the only give-away.

Tests show that for every 10 pounds of pressure below normal a tire is allowed to drop an 8 per cent decrease in mileage results.

any moment, NBC's correspondent in Ankara, Turkey, said German soldiers were reported to have occupied Damascus, the capital of Syria, only 60 miles from British-ruled Trans-Jordan.

Both the French and Germans have emphatically denied the presence of Nazi troops in Syria. The German radio broadcast a report from Beirut that British forces were preparing to land on the north Syrian coast and also to attack from Palestine and Trans-Jordan.

Berlin radio broadcast a report that British bombers attacked a French troop camp in southern Lebanon and met anti-aircraft fire. In London, the press warned that Britain's position in the Middle East was grave. Once more a clamor was made for decisive action to beat Hitler's blitz legions to the punch.

In the western air war, London had its first daylight air-raid alarm since April 22. It lasted half an hour, while a small formation of Nazi planes flew over, wheeled and returned south. There were no reports that bombs had been dropped.

German aerial activity last night was confined to a light raid by a few planes on parts of Scotland.

BUSINESS INDEX IN DISTRICT STILL UP

Pittsburgh, June 6.—(P)—Despite the Memorial Day holiday lull, business in the Pittsburgh district last week equalled the year's all-time high level, the University of Pittsburgh reported today.

The index of business rose to 144.7 per cent of the 1923-25 average, the same figure recorded during the record week ended Jan. 4. Steel mill operations, motor car registrations and department store sales accounted for most of the gains, while coal and electric power production declined.

REPORT ON ODD FELLOW SESSION IS PRESENTED

(Contributed)

The 22nd anniversary of Odd Fellowship was celebrated by Edna Lodge 666 Friday evening, May 30, at the Tidouste Hotel.

At the banquet ninety-nine members and friends from Erie, Diamond, Youngville, Grand Valley, Franklin, O. Falls Creek, Bradford, and way, Pa., Allegheny, N. Y., Delaware, Oklahoma, and Lakewood, N. Y., were present.

Special music was offered by Isabelle Randinelli, Pearl Garbruck, and Bill Johnson. Don McLaughlin served as songmaster. Charles Anderson acted as toastmaster.

Special table decorations, evergreen links, emblems of the Order, were used as center pieces. The central theme was in keeping with Decoration Day.

Adjourning from the hotel, an open meeting was held in the Lodge rooms. At this meeting, fifty Past Grand and ten Past District Deputies were present. The local Noble Grand Krug Cyphert presided.

After opening with ritual of the Order, the meeting was turned over to Charles Morrow, who in turn presented the following Grand Lodge Officers: Grand Representative to the Sovereign Grand Lodge, Henry Robinson, of Pittsburgh, who discussed the Educational Foundation Fund to which the local Lodge frequently makes donations.

Superintendent Eichholtz of the Wayneside Inn, Grove City, presented news from the Aged Home. He brought out the importance of this home to the Order.

Grand Guardian DeHaven, of Lehigh, offered a few remarks. Harry I. Sharp, of Diamond, Secretary to the Board of Trustees to Meadville, Home brought his greetings. Earl Bishop, of Butte, was an interesting speaker of the evening. Jovial and dynamic, he moved the audience with his keen humor and vast experiences.

Grand Master - Elect Walter Klein, of East Brady, presented his platform for the coming year. Grand Master Kollar, Shellington, discussed his achievements and disappointments during the past year.

labor and industry must respect its findings.

The Mediation Board meanwhile took these major steps:

Delivered to the southern soft coal industry a recommended new contract embodying the uniform $7 daily wage and 10-day paid vacation demands of the CIO United Mine Workers, and called for acceptance or rejection by 6 p. m. Monday.

Handed back to 12,000 striking CIO woodsmen for reconsideration the board's twice-rejected formula for peace in more than 60 Douglas fir operations in the Pacific northwest.

Suspended for the time being its efforts to mediate the day-old strike of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) at North American Aviation Corp., so that union chiefs could return to Ingleside, Calif., and consult with local unionists on the stoppage of work.

President Philip Murray of the CIO sent a strongly worded personal message to the Puget Sound lumber strikers last night urging acceptance of the Mediation Board formula and castigating their union leaders. The board itself merely reaffirmed its stand on the back-to-work terms and said it hoped "proper understanding" would bring about acceptance.

Defense officials said the strike on the coast halting work on aircraft for the United States and Great Britain brought the number of defense workers on strike to 52,800, highest number of the year.

The threatened strike of 3,000 drivers of trucks which haul steel in Michigan, Ohio and Indiana, set for midnight last night, was postponed until midnight Sunday, a spokesman for the Teamsters Union (AFL) announced at Detroit.

Meanwhile Detroit faced the threat of a general strike on June 16 of 4,000 municipal workers, members of the City Employees Union (AFL) unless wage increases were forthcoming before that time.

Possibility of a deadlock in demands of railroad employees for wage increases took shape in a statement by the Western Association of Railway Executives last night that the roads could not grant the "unreasonable demands" because they involve 1 about $750,000,000 while the carriers' net income last year totaled $191,000,000.

Fourteen non-operating railway labor organizations have proposed pay raises of 30 to 34 cents an hour for their 800,000 members.

Five operating unions, composed of engineers, firemen, conductors, switchmen, and trainmen, voted May 19 to seek 30 per cent increases for their 350,000 members.

Demands of both groups will be presented to the railroads June 10.

CHILDREN'S AID DIRECTORS ASK FINANCIAL HELP

Members of the board of directors of the Children's Aid Society of Warren County are at this time making personal calls on many citizens to ask for help with the society's work for children.

During the past year, over 100 children in the borough have received services from this agency, services ranging from physical assistance to children in their own homes, through medical care, help with psychological and emotional adjustments, to foster home placements.

There is no other agency in the county patterned to give just such care and this agency is dependent upon the county's citizens for support. Membership in the organization is open to each person who makes a contribution and these memberships constitute the only solicitation in the borough or county, since the agency benefits from no community fund.

The board has chosen Miss Mildred Blair as chairman of the campaign for memberships. She has served ably in this capacity in previous years and again has arranged most completely the many details necessary to the main purpose of the campaign: That of getting as many persons as possible to become members of this society for aid to children.

She asks that any who may be missed by personal solicitation or letter please send membership contributions to the county house office of the Children's Aid Society, where it will be used to carry on services to and for children.

PICNIC PLANS COMPLETED BY PRESBYTERIANS

General Chairman George K. Harsh announces that the First Presbyterian church picnic plans are complete and the committee is all set for a gala day tomorrow at Island Park in Youngsville.

Ample refreshments will be provided, ice cream, lemonade, coffee, cream and sugar, with ice cream during the afternoon for the youngsters.

Telford F. Eppley, sports chairman, has arranged for plenty of games and sports for young and old, including horseshoes, mushroom ball, and a full program of races and sports events; also roller skating for everybody.

Transportation will be provided for those who desire it, and it is requested that all who need such transportation will call the church office to make arrangements.

Preston Hoskin will lead some group singing and a short vesper service at eventide will be conducted under the leadership of Harold Banghart.

Arrangements are being made for an attendance in excess of 1000. All are reminded that Island Park is a safe place with plenty of play equipment for the little folks and that the skating rink and adequate shelter in case of showers assures a good time for all for this annual event.

Around New York

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—These things come up sometimes without warning and for no apparent reason. . . . But this is a river town as well as an ocean town, and we were crossing the river, the Hudson, on a night that was deep-starred and dark, with dim lights casting shadows that danced on the waters like little spears of yellow reflection.

And somebody said, "The Hudson. . . . That's a pretty name. Did you ever stop to think of that?" And somebody else said, "Thomas Wolf did, and Charles Laughton did. . . . They thought about this river, and the other rivers, and, what is more important, they did something about it."

WE ALL remembered then a broadcast of a couple of years ago on the "Pursuit of Happiness" program, with Charles Laughton and his wife Elsie Lancaster. . . . That was the broadcast where she played the part of a gabby American woman in Paris, who was ashamed of her friends, of her home, her country—but she couldn't get enough of talking about what wonderful cities and rivers Europe had.

Then Laughton, who seemed to be a sort of "voice" representing America, said, "Wait a minute. . . . What about our rivers. . . . Why, just their names are a sort of magic name that nothing on the face of the earth can equal."

And then Laughton rolled off the words, "Our beautiful. . . . In their names are the most of our country's life."

This broadcast brought back the memory of the broadcast so clearly that now, when I went over to see the Father of the Columbia Broadcasting Company, . . . He said, "I have a recording of that broadcast right up. . . . We went to one of the audition rooms, and played it. . . . It was one of the nicest experiences I have had in a long while. . . . We were 18 floors above the level of Madison avenue. . . . And Charles Laughton, or rather the ghost of his voice came back through the void of a couple of years, rolling off the names of American rivers which are Indian and lulling and musical such as rivers nowhere else on earth are musical and lulling. . . .

If you remember the way Laughton can read a line you can understand how it sounds to hear him say, "Monongahela. . . . Susquehanna. . . . Rappahannock. . . . Potomac. . . . Chickamauga. . . . Suwanee. . . . Wabash. . . .

And many, many others. . . . The Brandywine. . . . Calcasieu. . . . Niagara. . . . Mississippi. . . . Tennessee. . . .

IT WAS Thomas Wolf, of course, now prematurely dead and gone, who was responsible for this. . . . He wrote it. . . . He wrote the lines from which the broadcast was formed. . . . It's there where you can read it today, in "Look Homeward Angel," if you are interested. . . .

Steven Vincent Benet says, "And Thomas and all the rivers of the King, ran into Mississippi and were drowned."

That about explains it. . . . The Hudson, the Columbia, the Ohio, the Missouri. . . . Nothing changes there. . . . A thousand men can die, but the river rolls on, washing the city's sins into the sea."

Montreal will observe the 300th anniversary of its founding on May 18, 1942.

Around New York

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—These things come up sometimes without warning and for no apparent reason. . . . But this is a river town as well as an ocean town, and we were crossing the river, the Hudson, on a night that was deep-starred and dark, with dim lights casting shadows that danced on the waters like little smears of yellow reflection.

And somebody said, "The Hudson. . . . That's a pretty name. Did you ever stop to think of that?" . . . And somebody else said, "Thomas Wolf did, and Charles Laughton did. . . . They thought about this river, and the other rivers, and, what is more important, they did something about it."

WE ALL remembered then a broadcast of a couple of years ago on the "Pursuit of Happiness" program with Charles Laughton and his wife Elsa Lancaster. . . . That was the broadcast where she played the part of a gabby American woman in Paris, who was ashamed of her friends, of her home, her country—but she couldn't get enough of talking about what wonderful cities and rivers Europe had.

Then Laughton, who seemed to be a sort of "voice" representing America, said, "Wait a minute. . . . What about our rivers. . . . the American rivers. . . . Why, just their names are a sort of magic music that nothing on the face of the earth can equal."

And then Laughton rolled off the names. . . . those beautiful Indian names which most of our rivers have.

This discussion brought back the memory of the broadcast so strong that next morning I went over to see Mike Foster, of the Columbia Broadcasting Company. . . . He sent down to the recording library and had a recording of that broadcast brought up. . . . We went to one of the audition rooms, and played it. . . . It was one of the nicest experiences I have had in a long while. . . . We were 18 floors above the level of Madison Avenue. . . . And Charles Laughton, or rather the ghost of his voice came back through the void of a couple of years, rolling off the names of American rivers which are Indian and lulling and musical such as rivers nowhere else on earth are musical and lulling. . . .

If you remember the way Laughton can read a line you can understand how it sounds to hear him say, "Monongahela. . . . Susquehanna. . . . Rappahannock. . . . Potomac. . . . Chickamauga. . . . Suwanee. . . . Wabash. . . . And many, many others. . . . the Brandywine. . . . Calcasieu. . . . Niagara. . . . Mississippi. . . . Tennessee. . . ."

IT WAS Thomas Wolf, of course, now prematurely dead and gone, who was responsible for this. . . . He wrote it. . . . He wrote the lines from which the broadcast was formed. . . . It's there where you can read it today, in "Look Homeward Angel," if you are interested. . . .

Steven Vincent Benet says, "And Thames and all the rivers of the King ran into Mississippi and were drowned." . . . That about explains it. . . . The Hudson, the Columbia, the Ohio, the Missouri. . . . Nothing changes them. . . . "A thousand men can die, but the river rolls on, washing the city's sins into the sea."

It has been estimated there are 2000 midgets in the world.

Danish-Born Woman Cures Bombed British Babies

War's noises and concussions leave their mark in infant minds, so the British Relief Society has set up a clinic near London for treating and preventing bomb shock in babies. Its director is Mrs. Estrid Dane, Danish-born, naturalized British subject, shown putting an infant through the "stretching" part of her unusual treatments.
